CDW Completes Acquisition of Leading IT Solutions Provider Berbee Information Networks Corporation

VERNON HILLS, Ill. – October 11, 2006 – CDW Corporation (NASDAQ:CDWC), a leading provider of technology products and services to business, government and education, today announced that it has completed the acquisition of privately-held Berbee Information Networks Corporation (“Berbee”), one of the nation’s largest independent IT solution providers. CDW announced a definitive agreement to acquire Berbee on September 18, 2006. Pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement, CDW completed the acquisition for a total purchase price of $184 million, including an adjustment for working capital.

This acquisition will enhance CDW’s offerings of advanced technology products and services to address customers’ more complex business requirements. In addition, the acquisition is consistent with CDW’s strategies to expand its customer base, capture a greater share of its customers’ IT spending and increase its addressable market.

Founded in 1993 and headquartered in Madison, Wisconsin, Berbee is a proven partner to a broad spectrum of customers including corporate, healthcare, education and state and local governments. Berbee provides world-class solutions and engineering capabilities in advanced technologies primarily across the Cisco, IBM and Microsoft platforms. Areas of expertise include network infrastructure and unified communications, systems and storage, security, productivity applications and managed services. Berbee is a national gold certified partner with Cisco, a premier business partner with IBM authorized to sell all IBM server and storage lines and has six Microsoft gold certifications. Berbee received recognition as Cisco’s U.S. IP Communications Partner of the Year in 2005, an IBM Beacon Award for Best IBM iSeries On Demand Solution in 2006 and Microsoft Central Region Partner of the Year in 2006.
