

CDW Canada Honoured as a Winner of Microsoft's Excellence in Operations

Etobicoke, ON. — December 3, 2015 — Today CDW Canada announced it has won the Excellence in Operations Award for delivering market-leading operational excellence supporting Microsoft technology over the past year.

“CDW Canada is honoured to be a recipient of Microsoft’s Excellence in Operations Award,” said Mary Ann Yule, Vice President and General Manager, CDW Canada. “This award demonstrates how — working alongside organizations such as Microsoft — we are dedicated to helping businesses in Canada achieve their goals through leading technology solutions.”

Partners achieving this award exhibited best-in-class performance in the North American channel. CDW Canada was recognized for superior operational excellence by meeting, exceeding, or strongly trending towards specific requirements that drive valid agreements/orders, query reductions, and efficient orders. By meeting, exceeding, or strongly trending towards these conditions, recipients have demonstrated their commitment to Microsoft and its end-customers.

“Microsoft continues to innovate and drive improvements that empower our customers and our partners. The Operations Excellence Award recognizes our partners that are committed to working towards best in class customer service and for that we thank them and look forward to a long, strong partnership.” - Owen Roberts, general manager of Microsoft’s Americas Operations Center.
